1 Features for the beginner

It is good to start small. So here are some features for beginners:

- You can make text bold, italic or ~~crossed-out~~.
- You can add headers such as the one above ("Features for beginners").
- You can add inline code such as `print "Hello World"`.

2 More about headers

Each chapter is in its own file and starts with a second-level header (##).

Headers should be unique within a chapter, so they can be referenced in links (more about links can be found in the chapter "Advanced").
